OCTOBER 2019

No. 10

Dear Rev. Fathers, Brothers and Sisters,

1. EXTRAORDINARY MISSIONARY MONTH

Pope Francis has declared October 2019 to be an Extraordinary Missionary Month to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the encyclical Maximum Illud, which called on Catholics to bring the Good News to all peoples (Missio Ad Gentes) and invited the Universal Church to renew her commitment to the cause of Mission. At the diocesan level, we had organized information sessions to the members of the Council of Priests, Diocesan Pastoral Council and the CRI. A few deaneries and parishes too organized this information session to their Pastoral Council members. We have also issued a detailed action plan as regards the celebration of this missionary month through our circular given in July-2019 issue of Vox Nostra. I request all parish priests to celebrate this month meaningfully in your parishes with the activities proposed in our circular. Let us pray the prayer given for this month during all masses and also ask the families to pray it daily during their family prayers. The daily reflections in Konkani by our own priests would be posted in the Divyavani Live Youtube Channel and in Divine Word Channel at 8 a m. While I thank our priests and Rev. Fr Chetan Lobo, OFM Cap., Director of Social Communications for coordinating this endeavour, I request you to inform this to your parishioners. May the celebration of this extraordinary month re-ignite the spirit of mission within us and also among our faithful.

2. MONTH OF ROSARY

The month of October each year is dedicated to the Most Holy Rosary. This is primarily due to the fact that the liturgical feast of Our Lady of the Rosary is celebrated annually on October 7. It was instituted to honor the Blessed Virgin Mary in gratitude for the protection that she gives the Church in answer to the prayer of the Rosary by the faithful. The Rosary is primarily a scriptural prayer, "a compendium of the entire Gospel," as stated by Pope Pius XII. The Rosary draws its mysteries from the New Testament and is centered on the great events of the Incarnation and Redemption. St John Paul II called the Rosary his favorite prayer. We meditate upon the mysteries with Mary which she, as a mother, pondered in her heart (Lk. 2:19). In this month of October, let us use this beautiful prayer in order to draw closer to Jesus and Mary. Along with the celebrations of the Extraordinary Missionary month, let us take this month as an occasion to catechize our faithful on the importance of the Rosary in the families and also encourage them to pray the Rosary daily in their families. I strongly recommend organizing the praying of the Rosary, in front of the Grotto at the parish level, before masses in the Church or in the Wards.

3. BIBLE SUNDAY 2019

The Bible Sunday 2019 will be celebrated in our Diocese on 6 October 2019, as recommended by KRCBC to hold it every year on the first Sunday of October in Karnataka. Since the special liturgy for this Sunday along with the readings is given by Pope Francis as a part of the celebration of the Extraordinary Missionary Month, let us follow the proposed liturgy. The introduction for Mass and the prayers of the faithful incorporating the theme of this Sunday, has been given by Divya Jyothi and is found as annexure 2. The Bible Sunday is an occasion for us to remind ourselves of our duty to read the Word of God daily as envisioned in Second Vatican Council: “All the clergy must hold fast to the Sacred Scriptures through diligent sacred reading and careful study, especially the priests of Christ and others, such as deacons and catechists who are legitimately active in the ministry of the word. This is to be done so that none of them will become an empty preacher of the word of God outwardly, who is not a listener to it inwardly” (DV 25). Let us organize appropriate activities to bring awareness among our faithful on the importance of the Word of God in Christian life.

4. CHILDREN’S ROSARY

As in the past years, this year too, the initiative, “One Million Children Praying the Rosary’ will be held on 18th October inviting children worldwide to pray the Rosary. This year’s theme is mission, as proposed by Pope Francis. For this reason, the children will be praying, in particular, for missionaries and new missionary vocations. Through the webpage, <https://millionkidspraying.org/en/> a wide selection of material for the campaign is available as free downloads in many different languages. Background information too is made available. The material includes a poster and a four-page prayer leaflet with texts, meditations on the Joyful Mysteries of the Rosary and instructions on how to pray the rosary. In addition, there are reports and photos from past campaigns as well as coloring pictures for children. Let us instruct our children and parents about this initiative and ask them to pray the Rosary on 18th October for this intention.

5. MISSION SUNDAY

The Mission Sunday will be celebrated on 20th October this year with the same theme for the Extraordinary Missionary Month: Baptized and Sent: The Church of Christ on Mission in the World. In his message, Pope Francis states: "The Church is on a mission in the world, faith in Jesus Christ enables us to see all things in their proper perspective, as we view the world with God's own eyes and heart. Hope opens us up to the eternal horizons of the divine life that we share. This missionary mandate touches us personally: I am a mission, always; you are a mission, always; every baptized man and woman is a mission... This life is bestowed on us in baptism, which grants us the gift of faith in Jesus Christ, the conqueror of sin and death... Our mission, then, is rooted in the fatherhood of God and the motherhood of the Church."Read the full message from Pope Francis in annexure 1.

I sincerely appreciate the great interest and enthusiasm each one of you take, year after year, to make this Sunday truly meaningful. Last year our diocesan contribution was Rs 74,27,637. While I thank you for this contribution, I urge you to motivate your parishioners to be generous towards the cause of the missions through their prayers, sacrifices and contributions. As mentioned in the ORDO, the Mass on the day may be offered 'For the Evangelization of Peoples', as indicated in the Roman Missal.

6. FAITH FORMATION CAMPS

It is customary in our Diocese, to organize Faith Formation Camps at Deanery levels during the October holidays. A preparatory meeting of the priest-coordinators of these camps in five deaneries was held on 2 September 2019 at our house where elementary details about camps were discussed and the list of themes and the resource persons were supplied to the priest-coordinators. The themes by Divya Jyothi, Family and Youth Commission, and Supatha will be taken up by all deaneries this year too. I hope the planning has been already started in every deanery towards the efficient organizing of these camps: JeevanAmrith (8th Std), Jeevan Disha (9th Std) and Jeevan Jyothi (10th Std). I request all Parish Priests to do everything within your capacity to make every child attend the camp without fail despite the shortage of holidays for children this year. I also recommend that the all parish priests personally visit these camps, support and encourage the children in this faith-activity.

7. DIGITALIZATION OF PARISH RECORDS

In response to the unanimous support at the Pastoral Consultation 2019 and the approval at the meeting of Council of Priests held on 6 September 2019, I hereby request all parish priests to start the digitalization of parish records with the help of Fr Evan Gomes, SVD (Cell: 9482185327). While a few parishes have already begun this process, it is my earnest desire that the digitalization process should be completed by March 2020 so that from April 2020 this system shall be in operation in all parishes of our Diocese.

Yours sincerely in Christ,

Bishop of Udupi.

MESSAGE OF HIS HOLINESS FRANCIS
FOR WORLD MISSION DAY 2019

Baptized and Sent: The Church of Christ on Mission in the World

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

For the month of October 2019, I have asked that the whole Church revive her missionary awareness and commitment as we commemorate the centenary of the Apostolic Letter Maximum Illud of Pope Benedict XV (30 November 1919). Its farsighted and prophetic vision of the apostolate has made me realize once again the importance of renewing the Church's missionary commitment and giving fresh evangelical impulse to her work of preaching and bringing to the world the salvation of Jesus Christ, who died and rose again.

The title of the present Message is the same as that of October's Missionary Month: Baptized and Sent: The Church of Christ on Mission in the World. Celebrating this month will help us first to rediscover the missionary dimension of our faith in Jesus Christ, a faith graciously bestowed on us in baptism. Our filial relationship with God is not something simply private, but always in relation to the Church. Through our communion with God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, we, together with so many of our other brothers and sisters, are born to new life. This divine life is not a product for sale – we do not practise proselytism – but a treasure to be given, communicated and proclaimed: that is the meaning of mission. We received this gift freely and we share it freely (cf. Mt 10:8), without excluding anyone. God wills that all people be saved by coming to know the truth and experiencing his mercy through the ministry of the Church, the universal sacrament of salvation (cf. 1 Tim 2:4; Lumen Gentium, 48).

The Church is on mission in the world. Faith in Jesus Christ enables us to see all things in their proper perspective, as we view the world with God's own eyes and heart. Hope opens us up to the eternal horizons of the divine life that we share. Charity, of which we have a foretaste in the sacraments and in fraternal love, impels us to go forth to the ends of the earth (cf. Mic 5:4; Mt 28:19; Acts 1:8; Rom 10:18). A Church that presses forward to the farthest frontiers requires a constant and ongoing missionary conversion. How many saints, how many men and women of faith, witness to the fact that this unlimited openness, this going forth in mercy, is indeed possible and realistic, for it is driven by love and its deepest meaning as gift, sacrifice and gratuitousness (cf. 2 Cor 5:14-21)! The man who preaches God must be a man of God (cf. Maximum Illud).

This missionary mandate touches us personally: I am a mission, always; you are a mission, always; every baptized man and woman is a mission. People in love never stand still: they are drawn out of themselves; they are attracted and attract others in turn; they give themselves to others and build relationships that are life-giving. As far as God's love is concerned, no one is useless or insignificant. Each of us is a mission to the world, for each of us is the fruit of God's love. Even if parents can betray their love by lies, hatred and infidelity, God never takes back his gift of life. From eternity he has destined each of his children to share in his divine and eternal life (cf. Eph 1:3-6).

This life is bestowed on us in baptism, which grants us the gift of faith in Jesus Christ, the conqueror of sin and death. Baptism gives us rebirth in God's own image and likeness, and makes us members of the Body of Christ, which is the Church. In this sense, baptism is truly necessary for salvation for it ensures that we are always and everywhere sons and daughters in the house of the Father, and never orphans, strangers or slaves. What in the Christian is a sacramental reality – whose fulfillment is found in the Eucharist – remains the vocation and destiny of every man and woman in search of conversion and salvation. For baptism fulfils the promise of the gift of God that makes everyone a son or daughter in the Son. We are children of our natural parents, but in baptism we receive the origin of all fatherhood and true motherhood: no one can have God for a Father who does not have the Church for a mother (cf. Saint Cyprian, De Cath. Eccl., 6).

Our mission, then, is rooted in the fatherhood of God and the motherhood of the Church. The mandate given by the Risen Jesus at Easter is inherent in Baptism: as the Father has sent me, so I send you, filled with the Holy Spirit, for the reconciliation of the world (cf. Jn 20:19-23; Mt 28:16-20). This mission is part of our identity as Christians; it makes us responsible for enabling all men and women to realize their vocation to be adoptive children of the Father, to recognize their personal dignity and to appreciate the intrinsic worth of every human life, from conception until natural death. Today's rampant secularism, when it becomes an aggressive cultural rejection of God's active fatherhood in our history, is an obstacle to authentic human fraternity, which finds expression in reciprocal respect for the life of each person. Without the God of Jesus Christ, every difference is reduced to a baneful threat, making impossible any real fraternal acceptance and fruitful unity within the human race.

The universality of the salvation offered by God in Jesus Christ led Benedict XV to call for an end to all forms of nationalism and ethnocentrism, or the merging of the preaching of the Gospel with the economic and military interests of the colonial powers. In his Apostolic Letter Maximum Illud, the Pope noted that the Church's universal mission requires setting aside exclusivist ideas of membership in one's own country and ethnic group. The opening of the culture and the community to the salvific newness of Jesus Christ requires leaving behind every kind of undue ethnic and ecclesial introversion. Today too, the Church needs men and women who, by virtue of their baptism, respond generously to the call to leave behind home, family, country, language and local Church, and to be sent forth to the nations, to a world not yet transformed by the sacraments of Jesus Christ and his holy Church. By proclaiming God's word, bearing witness to the Gospel and celebrating the life of the Spirit, they summon to conversion, baptize and offer Christian salvation, with respect for the freedom of each person and in dialogue with the cultures and religions of the peoples to whom they are sent. The missio ad gentes, which is always necessary for the Church, thus contributes in a fundamental way to the process of ongoing conversion in all Christians. Faith in the Easter event of Jesus; the ecclesial mission received in baptism; the geographic and cultural detachment from oneself and one's own home; the need for salvation from sin and liberation from personal and social evil: all these demand the mission that reaches to the very ends of the earth.

The providential coincidence of this centenary year with the celebration of the Special Synod on the Churches in the Amazon allows me to emphasize how the mission entrusted to us by Jesus with the gift of his Spirit is also timely and necessary for those lands and their peoples. A renewed Pentecost opens wide the doors of the Church, in order that no culture remain closed in on itself and no people cut off from the universal communion of the faith. No one ought to remain closed in self-absorption, in the self-referentiality of his or her own ethnic and religious affiliation. The Easter event of Jesus breaks through the narrow limits of worlds, religions and cultures, calling them to grow in respect for the dignity of men and women, and towards a deeper conversion to the truth of the Risen Lord who gives authentic life to all.

Here I am reminded of the words of Pope Benedict XVI at the beginning of the meeting of Latin American Bishops at Aparecida, Brazil, in 2007. I would like to repeat these words and make them my own: “Yet what did the acceptance of the Christian faith mean for the nations of Latin America and the Caribbean? For them, it meant knowing and welcoming Christ, the unknown God whom their ancestors were seeking, without realizing it, in their rich religious traditions. Christ is the Saviour for whom they were silently longing. It also meant that they received, in the waters of Baptism, the divine life that made them children of God by adoption; moreover, they received the Holy Spirit who came to make their cultures fruitful, purifying them and developing the numerous seeds that the incarnate Word had planted in them, thereby guiding them along the paths of the Gospel... The Word of God, in becoming flesh in Jesus Christ, also became history and culture. The utopia of going back to breathe life into the pre-Columbian religions, separating them from Christ and from the universal Church, would not be a step forward: indeed, it would be a step back. In reality, it would be a retreat towards a stage in history anchored in the past”

(Address at the Inaugural Session, 13 May 2007: Insegnamenti III, 1 [2007], 855-856).

We entrust the Church's mission to Mary our Mother. In union with her Son, from the moment of the Incarnation the Blessed Virgin set out on her pilgrim way. She was fully involved in the mission of Jesus, a mission that became her own at the foot of the Cross: the mission of cooperating, as Mother of the Church, in bringing new sons and daughters of God to birth in the Spirit and in faith.

I would like to conclude with a brief word about the Pontifical Mission Societies, already proposed in Maximum Illud as a missionary resource. The Pontifical Mission Societies serve the Church's universality as a global network of support for the Pope in his missionary commitment by prayer, the soul of mission, and charitable offerings from Christians throughout the world. Their donations assist the Pope in the evangelization efforts of particular Churches (the Pontifical Society for the Propagation of the Faith), in the formation of local clergy (the Pontifical Society of Saint Peter the Apostle), in raising missionary awareness in children (Pontifical Society of Missionary Childhood) and in encouraging the missionary dimension of Christian faith (Pontifical Missionary Union). In renewing my support for these Societies, I trust that the extraordinary Missionary Month of October 2019 will contribute to the renewal of their missionary service to my ministry.

To men and women missionaries, and to all those who, by virtue of their baptism, share in any way in the mission of the Church, I send my heartfelt blessing.

From the Vatican, 9 June 2019, Solemnity of Pentecost
