Bishop Speaks...

Dear Rev. Fathers, Sisters and Lay Faithful,

The Marginalised!

Thousands of people all over India, on Monday 9th of last month, have joined mostly peaceful protests and sit-ins as part of the Bharat Bandh, or all-India strike, demanding the government challenging the apex court's verdict last month, which barred the immediate arrest of those accused of violence against people of Schedule Castes (SC) and Schedule Tribes (ST). The Dalit community in India is huge in number; they are like the elephant but look like the ant. Along with them all those of religious, linguistic and ethnic minorities in the world and in particular, in India, face the same misery. Mostly it is not the 'number' but economic muscle and ruling power victimize the less fortunate and the marginalized.. Indian Christians in many civil States face severe discrimination and marginalisation. However, there is a very strong consoling message in the Bible to counter such aggressive majoritarianism in society.

Jesus the Marginalised!

"A Marginal Jew"! This is the title of the two volumes written by Prof. John P. Meier (USA) in 1991 on the historical face of Jesus. No doubt, the term 'marginal' applies very much more to Jesus of Nazareth than anyone else in the history of humankind. Even though the selfish ruling outfits tried to dispose him of at his birth itself (Mt 2:16) the aggressive marginalization started with his own Nazareth people despising him at the Synagogue (Lk 4:22-30). 'Jesus, the poor layman turned prophet and teacher, the religious figure from rural Galilee without credentials, met his death in Jerusalem at least in part because of his clash with the rich high-class urban priesthood' (Meier; I, 9). Jesus was anti-establishment, anti-atrocities and anti-majoritarianism. Without having a political power-base in society or in the ruling dispensation he was easily brushed aside into the dustbin of death.

But, history changes! "Whom you crucified, God raised him from the dead," thus proclaimed St. Peter (Acts 4:10), so too Stephen (Acts 7); Paul would assert that because Jesus endured all sufferings of marginalisation "God also highly exalted him" (Phil 2:9). At this stage we cannot but remember the words of St. Leo the Great: "Lowliness is assured by majesty, weakness by power, mortality by eternity" (Epist. 28 ad Flavianum). In spite of being severely discriminated and marginalised, Jesus stood firmly in his chosen course of action well-grounded on righteousness and justice (Jn 18:36); being thoroughly aware of the wickedness of the human frailty (Jn 5:39-47) and unswervingly assigned to his responsibility (Jn 12:24). The marginalised has become the centre of the world (Mk 12:10; 1 Pet 2:7), attracting everyone through his self-sacrifice, merciful forgiveness and resurrection from the dead!

Lifted up the Lowly

The Synoptic Gospels present Mary the mother of Jesus as a simple, unknown girl of a remote village of Nazareth. In the rural set up of Nazareth, being a Jewish girl, she did not sit under a master of education; as such she was 'ignorant,' unknown, already betrothed to a man for marriage. Even though the angel brings good news of her becoming the 'Highly Favoured one' (Lk 1:28), her fear and trembling did not get settled (v. 29). This anxiety and panic continued when Joseph wanted to put her away (Mt 1:19), Simeon predicts that her child will be a sign destined to be opposed and a sword will pierce her soul (Lk

2:33-35), his own people in Nazareth will ridicule her son, saying that he is only “Mary's son” (Mk 6:3), her own son will ask others: 'Who is my mother?' (Mk 3:33) and witness with deep grief when the arrogant Jewish leaders along with big-headed ruling power hanged him on the cross (Jn 19:25). These are all moments of discrimination and marginalization. What is worse, these miseries happened to our divine Mother not because of her ethnic, linguistic and social minority status, but because of living a merciful life and adhering to truth and justice.

But history changes! Jesus, by his resurrection, brought to Our Lady a total transformation from weakness to strength, from lowliness to majesty and misery of opposition to endurance of hardships. Waiting to receive the power of the Holy Spirit she was able to encourage the trembling disciples (Act 2) and she could remember her hymn of praise to God addressed to Elizabeth: “He has brought down the powerful and lifted up the lowly” (Lk 1: 52). Very recently Pope Francis said: “Humility can only take root in the heart through humiliations”(GaudeteEtExsultate, published, on 19 March 2018; no. 118). From that moment of her encounter with Jesus till the end of the world she is the great dispenser of God's mercy to all those who seek her!

Hope for the Best!

Sad to say, what The Los Angeles Times reported long ago (20 June 1968): “[T]he Negro was kept aside, marginalized, thus composing in its large majority the chronically poor,” continues even today in various forms and spheres. Approval of Euthanasia, anti-conversion bill, anti-migrant's bill and anti-religious freedom are a few examples of domination of 'throw away culture.' In this desperate situation our Lord Jesus comes to say: Evil might rule for some time, but not forever! Illusion of the power of majoritarianism and dominant cultural supremacy will fade away one day. “Son of Man is coming (for judgement) at an unexpected hour” (Mt 24:43). To the oppressed and discriminated people, Jesus says: “All will be judged according to their own deed” (Rev 20:12).

Sure judgment of God and the definite defeat of the wicked people are not a matter of the future or at the 'end of the world,' but they are the daily historical factors happening in different parts of human society. Only people do not open well their eyes. To those people Our Lady says: 'God will scatter the proud and bring down the mighty' (Lk 1: 51-52). To the marginalised Our Lady says: “God will lift up the lowly” (Lk 1:53).

Missionary Journey of Our Lady of Fatima

The mission Congress held in Ernakulam last October underlined the fact of our witness to Jesus Christ in our own situation. We were encouraged to take the Mission Cross as a mark of reminder of our witness to Jesus Christ and it was proposed that Our Lady of Fatima, whose apparition anniversary we are celebrating this year will accompany the Mission Cross. The Statue of Our Lady of Fatima along with the Mission Cross are now being taken around all the parishes of our Diocese. This pilgrimage started from the Cathedral on Saturday, 7 April and it will end at the chapel of Our Lady of Fatima on Sunday, 13 May when we will have the installation of Our Lady of Fatima there with a grand annual feast of the chapel. I appreciate all the parishes, taking to their parishes both the Mission Congress Cross and the statue of Our Lady of Fatima. This has enhanced our devotion to Our Lady and our witness to the Catholic faith.

A solemn Way of the Cross was conducted by the Cathedral parish on Good Friday (30 March 2018). The carrying of the Cross with prayer went about three kilometres in the town of Palakkad. Many participated with much devotion and it was a great witness of our Faith to the non-Christians in the town.

As in the previous years the parishes of Mannarkad and Mukkali joined together and conducted the 14 km Way of the Cross, starting from Thenkara to Mukkali. Our bishop joined the Way of the Cross and conducted the Good Friday service in Mukkali at 3 pm on Friday 30 March. A large number of faithful participated in this Way of the Cross all through 14 km, in which the people prayed the fourteen Stations of the Cross climbing the hill toward Mukkali.
