Meeting of Family Cell Members

The Family Cell Members from 10 parishes and 2 sub-stations had a review and orientation meeting in Dishari on September 15, 2019. There were 57 participants. Besides Bishop Salvadore Lobo, Bishop Shyamal Bose and the Paribar Jyoti Team, present also were Fr. Himangshu Poti, Fr. Faustine Brank, Fr. Salvatore Murmu SJ and Fr. Saumen Malik. Bishop Salvadore Lobo initiated the meeting with a prayer and an inspiring motivational address. The sharing of the activities by the participants gave an idea of how active the cells of each place are, though most of them are in the initial stage.

The discussion on the purpose of their activities took a new turn with a role play by the animators of Paribar Jyoti and the question, if the family cells are meant only to dig out problems or if they have good news for the families. Fr Pradeep Roy took them one step further saying, if we look for worms we shall find only worms; The couples need to relish the memories of the joyful moments of their lives and redirect their journey towards attaining the immense joy of their glorious vocation as planned by God instead of harping on the failures and woes which may lead them to frustration. The participants further came out with the many reasons why their married life is really joyful and it can be still more joyful.

Bishop Shyamal Bose who said the Mass began with a very touching introduction highlighting the need to give priority to the apostolate. His simple, practical and down-to-earth sermon encouraged the cell members to recharge their enthusiasm strive harder to promote family peace and unity.

The group discussion in the afternoon brought up many practical ways to help the people to rediscover the joy of married life. The participants were happy to become messengers of joy and hope to the families which would make them more acceptable.

There are active family cells in 14 parishes and 6 substations. These function under the guidance of the parish clergy. In some parishes, the catechists also take an active role to promote the family cells. Paribar Jyoti gives moral support from the outside.

A Course in Morning Star Regional Seminary

Fr. Pradeep Roy and Mr. Francis Lobo of Paribar Jyoti conducted a 3-days course on social work and analysis for the IIIrd year philosophers. They were 24 brothers and one sister. After an analysis of the structure of injustice and the root causes of poverty underlying the usually cited causes, the discussion continued to highlight the different kinds of social activities and the classification of social work in terms of the impact on the individuals and the community. Through a methodology of participatory learning, the seminarians came to know how some types of social work which appear to be beneficial can be harmful in the long run while some works which seem to be trivial can have long term impact to promote unity and mutual support, thus helping the people to grow and develop as a community.

Reflecting on the social work seminarians do, they understood how to look at their work with a analytical mind and make it a learning experience. With this understanding they were able to enumerate the things they can learn from the people they are serving.

Some said that previously they thought that social work was only giving material help to people. But now they understood how social work can bring about social transformation and become instrumental to build up the kingdom of God.
